LAWSON IRIS GARDENS

1954

MRS. L. B. LAWSON
Waterman Canyon
Route 1, Box 76
San Bernardino, California

Greetings for 1954

The Lawson Gardens are privileged to offer ten new iris this year, masterpieces by Clarence G. White of oncobred fame, Geo. W. Wedgwood, the well-beloved Charles E. F. Gersdorff of Washington, D. C. (former registrar of the American Iris Society), and the late Lena Lothrop, who originally assembled this great collection for introduction.

We could relate a thrilling story of the rescue of these great iris from oblivion after Mrs. Lothrop's death. Some of these have been unavoidably delayed in getting to market, so stocks are large and prices are modest.

Our iris are all mountain grown above the 3000-foot level, between San Bernardino and Lake Arrowhead, in decomposed granite soil enriched by bountiful humus. They have been hardened by frost and snow, and most of them have been tested in even more severe climates in Washington, Utah, Missouri, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

In selecting varieties to offer our customers throughout the United States, we have concentrated on well-branched varieties which will remain in bloom in your garden from four to six weeks. Our bloom season begins early in March and extends well into June: a three month flower show in a natural setting. You will want to come back again and again, and you are always welcome.

May we take this opportunity to thank the many customers who have written to us expressing their satisfaction in the quality of stock received from us, and their thanks for the extras.

We are moving our garden this fall, so won't you take advantage of some of the wonderful specials we are offering and plant some of our iris for us, so we won't have so many to move.

Sincerely,

MRS. FRANCES J. LAWSON

Member of: The American Iris Society

1954 Introductions

BERMUDA BLUE (Lena Lothrop) ML 40"

A near self in the "medium blue" class, but about the bluest blue we know of, so intense that even Sierra Blue and Blue Rhythm look pale by contrast. Form, spacing, branching and substance are in Mrs. Lothrop's best manner. The moderately large blossoms have conical standards and semi-flaring satiny falls, exquisitely rounded. Rich grape fragrance like Esquire and loads of pollen ..... $15.00

BETROTHAL (Lena Lothrop) M 36" (Esquire x Fort Knox)

Fragrant five-inch blossoms of purest Empire Yellow and classic form carried on a well-branched stalk of medium height. The sculptured standards sparkle as with diamond dust, and the broad, semi-flaring falls have the "propeller" form admired in such favorites as The Admiral. Every iris garden needs a wide assortment of yellows, and BETROTHAL will admirably complement your finest new varieties in other color tones. .... $12.50

CONTENT (Lena Lothrop) EM 48"

(Hills of Gold) x (Brown Betty x Miss Sally) x (Fort Knox)

The tall bearded iris season opens dramatically with this gracefully towering Primrose Yellow self, tailored four-inch blossoms of magnolia petal substance, admirably spaced on four-way-and-terminal branching. It remains in bloom for five weeks. CONTENT is fertile both ways and has already yielded some highly promising seedlings. We are dubious about its winter-hardiness outside Southern California but in a mild climate it is close to being the perfect iris. .... $10.00

COPPER DAWN (Chas. E. F. Gersdorff) M 38" (Pink Butterfly x Evening Skies)

We are proud to introduce this lovely iris by our well known former registrar of the American Iris Society. It is a fragrant, soft copper-pink self and glistens as if sprinkled with gold dust. Copper markings at the haft set off the golden yellow beard. It has four way branching and nice texture ..... $20.00

JOANNA JANSSE (Geo. W. Wedgwood) EM 40" (Purissima x Radiant)

This superb early violet-blue bitone is a "sleeper" bred by a gifted amateur and modestly withheld from the market until now. The 4½ inch blossoms on four-branched stalks resemble those of The Laughing Cavalier, one of our 1953 introductions, but this is a taller and earlier variety. JOANNA JANSSE was enthusiastically received by garden visitors and judges last season and, at a sneak preview, took the blue ribbon in its class at the Riverside, Calif., flower show. A clump continues in bloom for six weeks. Winter protection is advisable in colder climates. Large stocks permit a low introductory price ..... $5.00

MARGARET CRUISE (Clarence G. White) EM 33"

This striking yellow bitone of one-quarter oncocyclus parentage is a greatly improved and more refined version of Gay Senorita. The basic color is Empire Yellow (as in our new Betrothal and Viveza) but this is finely lined in the broad, semi-flaring falls with Hazel Brown. The blossoms are fully six inches square, well spaced and often three open at once on the stalks. The oncocyclus strain, while making for rich clarity of color and large blossoms, does result in somewhat high branching but also guarantees winter-hardiness in cold climates. This was enthusiastically selected by Mrs. John C. Cruise, American Iris Society judge and garden journalist, to bear her name ..... $10.00

PHOEBUS APOLLO (Clarence G. White) M 32"

Almost every leading hybridizer has sought to improve upon the great Ola Kala, Dykes Medal winner in 1948 and still one of America's favorite iris. Only time will reveal whether David Hall's Dazzler, Schreiner's Spotlight, Mrs. Steven's Royal Sovereign, or Clarence White's new part-onco PHOEBUS APOLLO will win this hotly contested new race. We are gratified to hear from our friend, Jack G. Linse of Yakima, Wash., that PHOEBUS APOLLO was the sensation of his 1953 season, enthusiastically admired by America's most renowned hybridizers, dealers and judges. In our garden we admired the superbly refined finish of its ruffled intense Wax Yellow ("gold") blossoms, its three-way-and-terminal branching, heavy substance, abundant pollen, also sets seed, and rich fragrance. Limited stock and heavy demand will keep the price high for some years ..... $25.00

SORAYA (Lena Lothrop) ML 40", Highly Commended, American Iris Society. (Hills of Gold x Easter Bonnet)

A distinguished tall iris in lilac pink blended with shades of buff and brown, and blazed purple, SORAYA has large blossoms of pleasing form and excellent substance on four-way branching stalks. Our visitors regard this as distinctly superior in all respects to others in that color range. The name compliments the present Queen of Iran, whose given name literally means "the glory of beauty." ..... $15.00

SULTRY HOUR (Lena Lothrop) M 44"
(Teal x Three Cheers)

In SULTRY HOUR, Mrs. Lothrop achieved a most striking grey-and-violet bicolor of pleasing form, 5½ inch blossoms of heavy substance borne on Esquire-type stalks, branching four ways with a terminal like a candelabrum. The slate grey standards and rich violet falls, while clear and brilliant, suggest the clouds which, on tropical afternoons, presage a refreshing downpour. Little work has been done in this interesting color class by hybridizers, and SULTRY HOUR has scarcely any competition in it. It has plenty of pollen if you'd like to try to top it ..... $5.00

VIVEZA (Clarence G. White) EM 40" Highly Commended, American Iris Society.

One of the most brilliant garden subjects we know, VIVEZA is a yellow bitone markedly superior to the long-popular Rocket, surpassing it in refinement of form and purity of color. Waved and crinkled standards of clear Empire Yellow are set off by falls of Burnt Sienna. Its four-way branching provide a long bloom season. Approximately one-quarter oncocyclus, VIVEZA has no pollen but is an excellent pod parent. .... $15.00
